不 就 是 接 个 闺 女 吗 至 于 这 么 正 式 吗

Isn't it just taking in a daughter? Does it really have to be this formal?

[03:10.00]

dāng rán zhì yú le duō dà de shì a 当 然 至 于 了 多 大 的 事 啊

Of course it does! It's a big deal, you know.

[03:14.50]

我 必 须 得 让 你 闺 女 看 看

I have to let your daughter see for herself.

your taste has really improved.

[03:20.00]

And you've gotten more and more handsome.

[03:22.00]

So once your daughter is here,

[03:24.50]

you should dress her up nicely.

[03:29.00]

Once she's here, the two of you (mother and daughter)

[03:30.50]

will be together day and night.

[03:32.50]

So, are you mentally prepared?

HSK 3+ Vocabulary

Words from the text above that are HSK level 3 or higher.

Word	Pinyin	Explanation
接 HSK3	jiē	‘To receive; to take in/take over’ — here used loosely for taking in a child as one’s own. Common in 接电话 (answer the phone), 接孩子 (pick up a kid).
至于 HSK4	zhìyú	Formal connector: ‘as for / to go so far as to’. Often rhetorical, as in 至于吗 — ‘is it really necessary to go that far?’
正式 HSK4	zhèngshì	‘Formal, official’ — opposite of 随便 (casual). Used for formal occasions, official status, official announcements, etc.
当然 HSK3	dāngrán	‘Of course, naturally’ — affirms something is obviously true; often stands alone as a one-word reply.
必须 HSK3	bìxū	‘Must, have to’ — a stronger obligation than 应该 (should). In speech, often paired with 得 (děi), as in 必须得.
让 HSK3	ràng	Causative verb ‘to let / to make (someone do something)’. Core grammar pattern: 让 + person + verb.
自打 ≈HSK4	zìdǎ	Colloquial (Beijing-flavored) equivalent of 自从, meaning ‘ever since’; marks the starting point of a new situation.
娶 HSK4/5	qǔ	‘To marry (a woman)’ — used only from the man’s side. The woman’s equivalent is 嫁 (jià), ‘to marry (a man)’.
品位 HSK5+	pǐnwèi	‘Taste, class, sophistication’ (of a person’s style). Related to but distinct from 品味 (pǐnwèi, ‘to savor’ / ‘taste, flavor’), with which it is sometimes used interchangeably.
而且 HSK3	érqiě	‘Moreover, and also’ — connects two escalating statements, often paired with 不但/不仅 (‘not only…but also’).
越来越 HSK3	yuèláiyuè	Pattern meaning ‘more and more ___’, placed directly before an adjective or verb: 越来越帅 = ‘more and more handsome’.
帅 HSK3	shuài	‘Handsome’ — used for men's looks (compare 漂亮/美 for women, though 帅 can be used informally for either).
打扮 HSK3	dǎban	‘To dress up, do (someone’s) makeup/styling’. Reduplicated as 打扮打扮, it softens the verb to ‘spruce (her) up a little’.
朝夕相处 idiom / ≥HSK6	zhāoxī xiāngchǔ	Four-character idiom (成语): ‘to be together from morning to night’ — used for people in very close daily contact, like family.
心理 HSK4	xīnlǐ	‘Psychology; mental/psychological state’. Easy to confuse with 生理 (shēnglǐ, ‘physiology’) — same second character sound-pattern, different meaning.
准备 HSK3	zhǔnbèi	‘To prepare / preparation’. In 心理准备, it forms a fixed collocation: ‘to be (mentally) ready for something’.
